Attorney General

State law does not permit the Attorney General or his staff to give legal advice or provide legal services to members of the public.

Other than requests relating to violations of the state's open records and open meetings laws, the Attorney General's office may issue opinions only to state agencies, state officials, and certain local government entities.

The Attorney General is one of twelve statewide elected offices in North Dakota and was established in the 1889 state constitution.

The Office is headed by the Attorney General, an independently elected constitutional officer, and is comprised of several divisions of highly specialized staff and attorneys.

The Attorney General represents the state in all legal matters, civil and criminal, where the state is named as a party or the state may have an interest in the outcome of the litigation. The office also provides legal services and opinions to state legislators, state officials, constitutional officers, state agencies, boards, and commissions.

The Office of Attorney General has approximately 30 attorneys divided into five divisions: State and Local Government, Criminal and Regulatory, Consumer Protection and Antitrust, Natural Resources and Indian Affairs, and Civil Litigation.

The office enforces the Open Meetings and Open Records laws, and issues opinions in response to complaints that a public entity has violated those laws.

In addition to our role as the “state’s lawyer,” the Office of Attorney General has several divisions with regulatory or investigative functions:

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) assists local governments in criminal and drug enforcement investigations, maintains the criminal history and sex offender registration systems, and provides training for law enforcement officials.

The Fire Marshal’s Office conducts fire safety training and inspections, controls hazardous materials incidents, and investigates fires.

The Lottery division is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the Lottery and its games. Find information about the Lottery and its games at: www.lottery.nd.gov.

The Gaming division regulates charitable gaming, and ensures compliance with tribal-state casino gaming compacts. The Licensing section regulates and issues certain wholesale, retail, and distributor licenses.

The Crime Laboratory analyzes samples from drug and alcohol related criminal cases, and evidence from crime scenes.

The Finance, Administration, and Information Technology divisions provide support within the agency.

Our Commitment

The Office of Attorney General serves the people of North Dakota. We are committed to providing instant access, via the Internet, to information and resources on a variety of issues, including:

- The Sex Offender website provides information about sex offenders who may be living in your neighborhood - www.sexoffender.nd.gov.
- Information about the state’s Open Record and Open Meetings laws is on our website - go to the “Open Records and Meetings” link. Be informed about your rights to access public records and participate in the process of government.
- Opinions. Attorney General opinions are posted on our home page almost immediately after they are issued. Also, access the opinion archive by clicking on the “Legal Opinions” link.
- Do Not Call. North Dakota residents can reduce unwanted telephone solicitations by registering home and cellular telephone numbers on the state’s Do Not Call list. Click on the “Do Not Call” link on our home page.
- Obtain information regarding scams, identity theft and consumer fraud, concealed weapons, gaming, detailed sex offender information, and more from our web site:
